DENTAL 'TOURISM'

Dentists are issuing a warning about the risks involved with medical or dental tourism – the practice of undertaking medical or dental treatment procedures overseas while people are on holidays. Complex dental procedures that require ongoing follow up work and time to settle, not to mention the risk of complications that need corrective action, means that undertaking 'dental tourism' on the back of a 'cheap holiday' risks costing more than the plus additional pain.

Don't risk the 'cheap health holiday away' only to have a 'big health bill' after you come back.

WHITENING SPECIAL

During our race season our practice is having a special on whitening treatment to help get your pearly whites for race day.
